Mounted Cantilever

Wall-mounted signage aims to identify various TfL stations at street level. Its design is intended to support customer perceptions of a modern service.

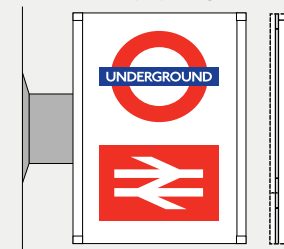

Its appearance is compliant with TfL station sign guidelines.

While colours must comply with TfL guidelines, the size can be tailored to suit the message and the site. Signs should be positioned in a clear line of sight.

The aluminium frame and pressed aluminium panels are self-cleaning and require little maintenance. Site assembly and installation are straightforward, and minimum repair is required after removal.

This is a preferred corporate solution, but variation within TfL guidelines is permitted depending on environmental issues.
